In Mideast U.S., Russian Peace Action Needed: Thant

62nd Year, No. 161

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) - Secretary-General U Thant-opened the 25th session of the U.N. General Assembly today with a call for joint U.S.-Soviet action to end the Middle East conflict.

The appeal was in Thant's annual report to the assembly, released in advance of today's

In both his annual report and in his speech, Thant said he hoped that leaders of countries attending the 25th anniversary session would hold private talks on the Middle East and on steps to strengthen the United Na-

He added that he had urged leaders of the big powers to meet from time to time "to initiate a change from confrontation and division to the building of a safe and peaceful world."

Thant said the 10-day commemorative session in mid-October would bring together the largest gathering of top government leaders in history.

"It is my hope that they would consider ways and means of strengthening the United Nations and promoting its authority and effectiveness," he said. "I would also hope that member states may give special consideration to re-establishing the financial solvency of the organi-

To blast his sountrymen out of their fatalism, the 70-pres-eld ex-president Jerge Ales-medi, the Nationalist candi-date who trailed Dr. Allende he a small popular margin (he get 018,019 votes, or 36 per cent, he compared to Allendo's 671,563), has offered to resign if the Congress should choose him president over Allende.

The Christian Democrats, whose Radimire Temis came in third in the papular election, have some 70 votes in the Congrees. Alessandri as a Nationalcould command 50. Allende's Marxist coalition has 86 votes, not enough to win if the Christian Democrats should combine with the Nationalists to make Alessandri the Congressional choice.

"There is much talk of human rights among those who protest the war," John F. Loosbrock, editor of Air Force/Space Digest, wrote recently in an editorial. "But there also is a basic human right involved in the matter, of the war prisoners. Any prisoner, no matter how heinous his crime -whether he is imprisoned for criminal. civil or political reasons, or whether he is a legitimate prisoner of war - deserves the basic human rights guaranteed by domestic and international law. In the case of a prisoner of war, his family is entitled by the Geneva Convention to know where he is held and to communicate

'The North Vietnamese say our men are not prisoners of war but war criminals and hence not protected by the Geneva Convention. That is pure hogwash. The Geneva Convention does not go into the matter of the legitimacy or illegitimacy of a war. If a man is in the military service, is wearing his country's uniform and is captured, he is a prisoner of war and entitled to humane treatment under the convention, which North Vietnam has signed."

As matters now stand, 450 Americans are known to be prisoners in North Vietnam. Another 1,150 are listed as "missing in action," leaving behind women who don't know whether they are wives or widows. Many of these 1,150 may be prisoners in North Vietnam. The point is that the nation doesn't know because Hanoi refuses to release information about the prisoners of war.

What can be done about it? Maybe nothing- unless the North Vietnamese can be convinced by the weight of world opinion that their policy not only is tragically inhumane but also in direct violation of international law.

In hopes of accomplishing this, relatives of U. S. prisoners of war have written letters pleading with Hanoi to change its course of action or inaction. They have now been joined by thousands of other American citizens through letterwriting campaigns initiated by newspapers.

The Milwaukee Sentinel has undertaken a project calling for letters and petitions requesting North Vietnam to provide more humane treatment for American prisoners, release of their names permission to receive mail and inspection of prison camps.

The San Diego Union printed a letter in Vietnamese to Ton Duc Thang, president of North Vietnam, urging amnesty for American prisoners. Readers were invited to clip the letter and mail it to him. Following are some excerpts from the letter, in the event that any readers of The Daily Press wish to join in this humanitarian campaign (letters should be addressed to Ton Duc Thang, President, Democratic Republic of Vietnam, Hanoi, North Vietnam, and mailed under 25 cents postage):

"To the Honorable Ton Duc Thang:

"We take this means of appealing to you on a situation which is close to the hearts of all Americans. This issue is not whether Americans should be in Vietnam or whether we should pull all our troops out immediately. The issue is not whether you are right and we are wrong or that we are right and you are wrong.

"The issue is the 450 American servicemen who are held in your prison camps. Another 1.150 are listed as missing, and possibly some are your prisoners. Their situation is our united concern.

"Both the "'doves' and the 'hawks' of America feel deeply about them and their welfare. We ask you to consider their immediate release. They have no military value to you. They can't hurt or hamper your war effort and no longer would help ours.

"Your supporters in this country could take satisfaction from the release of the prisoners. This, more than anything else, would demonstrate that you, too, do not seek revenge against men who did their duty. This, too, would show the world that compassion, not punishment, can lead to peace.

"If your heart contains mercy and your soul compassion, and if you truly seek to help the cause of peace, you have an opportunity to achieve these images in the eyes of the world.

'The feeling here is that you don't care about the individual; that his needs and wants and desires don't matter; that life is not sacred

"Your actions can give lie to these beliefs. An act of amnesty toward American prisoners would show the world that you are concerned with life and that all life is sacred.

"History can record you as a man of compassion; a man who respected human life and held it in high value; a man who held that famly life is paramount.

"Return these men to their families, and the world will hail you. Retain them, and your supporters can't help but wonder about your sincerity and motives."

Fate Of Chile Rests Vith Oct. 24 Action

For the rest of the century we are probably doomed to hear the beating of wings on the darkened air as the chickens come home to roost. But the word "probably" is advised. For sometimes an act of great magnanimity can change the course of events.

Are we witnessing such an act in Chile, where, for the first time in world history, a Marxist, Dr. Salvador Allende, has won a popular election for of its own members. the presidency of a great na-

A freely proterred magnanimous gesture could pay off in the Chilean Congress when, on Oct. 24, the vote is taken to confirm or deny Dr. Allende's right to office, which his 36.3 per cent victory in a three-way race would entitle him to assume, if tradition is followed.

What the Chilean Congress is being asked to do is to flout its old tradition of ratifying a popular verdict. Legally, the Congress is not bound to confirm a person as president if he fails to win a popular election by a majority. But Chile has always gone by rote, not by legal technicalities.

To blast his countrymen out of their fatalism, the 70-yearold ex-president Jorge Alessandri, the Nationalist candidate who trailed Dr. Allende by a small popular margin (he got 842,843 votes, or 35 per cent, as compared to Allende's 871,282), has offered to resign if the Congress should choose him president over Allende.

The Christian Democrats, whose Radimiro Tomic came in third in the popular election, have some 70 votes in the Congress. Alessandri as a Nationalist could command 50. Allende's Marxist coalition has 80 votes, not enough to win if the Christian Democrats should combine with the Nationalists to make Alessandri the Congressional choice.

* * * The question is whether the Christian Democrats will seize the opportunity to vote Alessandri in and then stand by while he magnanimously and patriotically resigns the office before assuming it. The resignation would force a new election in which the Nationalists would refrain from fielding a candidate.

The Christian Democratic candidate would inherit the Nationalist votes in a two-way election, thus checking Dr. Allende, the Leftist coalition leader who has promised to take Chile practically all the way to Communism.

The Christian Democrats, besides winning a new presidential term for themselves by making the bargain with Alessendri, would be paying off an old debt. For back in 1964 the conservative parties that have supported Alessandri decided that if they nominated a presidential candidate it would only result in giving Dr. Allende, the Leftist, a victory over the Christian Democrat's Eduardo Frei.

By withdrawing from contention they enabled Frei to get 54 per cent of the vote. Allende got 39 per cent, a more substantial vote in defeat than his recent 36 per cent total for victory.

The Socialists and Commu- book, "The Losers," is the best nists in Chile have, of course, raised the question of sportsmanship in an attempt to discredit Alessandri's offer. But when it comes to dealing with Communists whoever abides by the rules of cricket usually ends up in a concentration camp or in a cemetery.

Besides, it is hardly true cricket to hand a country over to a minority Socialist-Communist coalition when the law says Congress has the right to set aside the verdict by vote Paul Bethel, whose great available study of Latin America, has called the Chilean Christian Democrats the "Judas goats" of their country. Long ago he predicted that the Christian Democrats would play a Kerensky role that would deliver Chile to the Reds.

The Christian Democrats, by accepting Alessandri's offer, have one last chance to prove Bethel wrong. Keep your fingers crossed, for the fate of the whole southern half of America may be decided by what happens in Chile on Oct. 24.

Opening lead-five of hearts. Let's say you're declarer at three notrump and West leads the five of hearts on which East plays the queen. It is clearly right to play the six on the queen, but the fact is that most declarers would take the queen with the king and go down after trying the diamond finesse. East would win with the king and return a heart to bring the defense to five trciks.

This problem of when to reject a trick is occasionally very complicated, but most of the time it is relatively easy for declarer to decide whether or not to win the trick.

Thus, in the present case, ducking the queen is right because it assures the contract, while taking the queen is wrong because it jeopardizes the contract.

There is every reason to believe that West's five is his fourth best heart, and, after East plays the queen, that West has the A-10-8. The number of hearts West has is unknown, but it seems certain that he started with either four, five or six.

In deciding whether to take the queen, you must consider all three of these possibilities. It is clear that if you win the heart and it turns out that West has either four or six hearts, you cannot be defeated whether or not you win the

The only real danger is that West may have started with five hearts, in which case the contract will fail if you take the first heart and the diamond finesse then loses to East. Since ducking the queen insures the contract regardless of how many hearts West started with, you should play the six on East's queen. The duck is merely a matter of self-preservation.

Dear Ann Landers: Am I to blame? You be the judge. Several weeks ago I stopped by the home of a friend. We were to go to a meeting together. I found her at the foot of the basement stairs-dazed and in pain. Her nose was bleeding and she was certain it was broken. I helped her into my car and took her to the nearest hospital. She did indeed have a broken nose. The doctor set it and she spent the night and part of the next day there.

Now several weeks later my friend is not speaking to me. Why? Because she says I did a terrible thing by taking her to a Minneapolis hospital. She claims a REAL friend would have driven her to the Mayo Clinic which is 90 miles away. It seems she is very unhappy about the way her nose looks. Frankly, it wasn't so good to begin with and I don't think it looks any different. Please comment, Ann. I can't seem to get through.-Talked Out

Dear T. O.: It would make no sense for a housewife who broke her nose in Minneapolis to be driven to Rochester to get it set. GM Employes Prepare For 6-Week Strike the important issue," said Jerry Parks, a 38-year-old toolmaker at General Motors Fisher Body plant in Mansfield, Ohio. "We don't care what you call it."

"We are striking for a whole lot of things," said another member of the United Auto Workers, which struck across the country today.

Striking workers did not alsays agree on what were the most important issues, but most seemed resigned to a strike "that had to be."

Many felt that the strike would last from four to six weeks, and some said they would't want it to last less than

"Why go out for two weeks?" one of the men asked. "If you go out for two you may as well go out for six and get something.'

The same men admitted that they were not prepared for a strike of any duration. The UAW strike fund pays between $30 and $40 a week to striking employes, depending on family size. It's not enough, and most acknowledge the fact. Many will have to forego strike benefits to find other employment for the duration of the strike. Others will send their wives to work.

"No working man prepares for a strike," said Frank Ryan, 45. a worker at GM's Cadillac Division plant in Detroit. "You live day by day, week by week. But we'll take it as it comes."

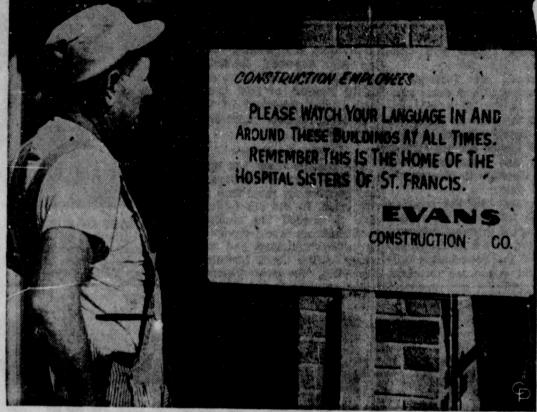

Ryan earns the average hourly wage in the industry, $4.02, and has been with Cadillac 15 years. To him and to many other GM veterans the "30 and out" issue is a key one.

"If we get our foot in the door now, we'll get 25-and-out the next time or two. And I'm looking forward to that."

The UAW is asking that anybody with 30 years service, regardless of age, he allowed to retire at $500 a h. GM's proposal would s act $40 a month from the $500 for each year a retiree is under 58.

Anti-Pollution Workshop Plans Now Under Way

LANSING (AP) Invitations are being mailed this week for an Oct. 19 workshop dealing with Michigan's antipollution laws. The conference will be at the University of Michigan.

Gov. William Milliken said the meeting was planned because there have been a number of inquiries about new laws permitting citizen suits to stop pollution and requiring industries to report discharges into

The governor's office said invitations are being sent to governors, legislators, colleges, federal agencies, conservation groups and various law firms.

August Jobless Count Decreases; Total Still High

DETROIT (AP) - Michigan had 23,000 fewer workers unemployed in August than in July. according to the Michigan Employment Security Commission. Commission director William Ford said Saturday that an estimated 304,000 workers, or 8.5 per cent of the labor force, were unemployed in the state compared with 327,00, or 9.1 per cent, in July - the year's high point.

Despite the drop, this year's August unemployment level was the highest for that month since August, 1962, when 8.6 per cent of the labor force was jobless, Ford said.

"The reduction in the number of unemployed was the result of some lessening of model changeover layoffs throughout the state and a decline in summer job seekers," Ford explained.

Unemployment in the Detroit area also fell slightly to 150,000, or 8.7 per cent of the labor force, from July's final estimate of 156,000 or 9 per cent.

"If you're unhappy with the phone company. I'll get you action."

"It happens.

"Sometimes people have a legitimate complaint against the phone

"But too often they go to someone else for an answer. When I should be the first to hear about it.

"I'm a service representative at Michigan Bell, and if you need an answer for a service slip up, call me

"We have a new way to handle complaints and unusual service requests much faster. Now if you should ever have a question for the phone company, you don't have to contact someone else.

"To take care of these hang ups, Michigan Bell has set up 'Customer Service Action Teams' in its local business offices.

"These teams are here to make sure you get what you're used to getting: the tops in service from Michigan Bell. Even on those out-of-the-ordinary requests.

" 'Customer Service Action Teams' are made up of specially trained people.

"They know the best ways to track down misplaced orders. To answer uncommon questions. To process even the most complicated service requests.

"So if you ever have a misunderstanding with the phone company, call your service representative at the local Michigan Bell business office. If she can't solve your problem through her regular channels, she'll turn it over to her 'Customer Service Action Team'.

"Now, if you contact us first, you'll get faster action."

Distance Added To Kangas' Kick

An error was noted in Monday's Daily Press concerning the distance of the field goal kicked by Tom Kangas in the Escanaba Eskymos' 19-6 victory over the Menominee Maroons Saturday night.

The original line of scrimmage was the Menominee seven-yard line and Jerry Cvengros, the Eskymo coach, said that the holder puts the ball down approximately seven yards behind the line of scrimmage.

This means Kangas kicked the ball from the 14-yard line and with the additional 10 yards the rule book gives the kicker because the goal posts are stationed 10 yards behind the goal line, Kangas' field goal was from 24 yards out.

In Memoriam

Jensen and Kobasic

In loving memory of our beloved sons and brothers, John Jensen and Charles Kobasic, who passed away seven years ago, Sept. 15, 1963.

We do not need a special day, To bring them to our minds: The days we do not think of them; Are very hard to find.
Within our store of memories,
They hold a place apart;
For no one else should ever be, More cherished in our hearts.

Strike Issues At A Glance

DETROIT (AP) - These are the union's and company's positions on the three major issues standing between General Motors Corp. and the United Auto Workers in in new contract bargaining. WAGES GM has offered wage increases in the first year of a three-year contract ranging TWO BEDROOM heated apartment with complete bath. No children. from 36 cents hourly for a man making $3.50 an hour or less to 48 cents for a man making $6.34 and up. A man making $4.02, the current average hourly wage in the industry, would get 38 cents more. The union wants wage boosts ranging from 611/2 cents to 84 cents. The man making the industry average would get 63 cents more. In each of the second and third years GM would raise wages by 11 cents for the man on the bottom of the scale, by 13 cents for the man making the industry average and by 21 cents for the man at the top of the scale. The UAW has not specified what it wants in the second and third years, saying it depends on the company's willingness to change its stance (COLA). COLA GM says it will guarantee cost-of-living allowances of at least 8 cents hourly in each of the last two years of the contract and will raise wages, depending on how the cost of living rises, by up to 16 cents in the second year and by a maximum of 12 cents in the third year. The union wants the company to return to the COLA formula in effect prior to 1967 For men and women, in stock at MANNING SHOE STORE. which had no minimums or maximums.

on the cost-of-living allowance

PENSIONS GM has offered to provide a $500 monthly pension for a man Rte. retiring with 30 years service, less $40 a month for anybody under 58 for each year under 58. A 48-year-old worker with 30 years service could retire at $100 a month. The union wants everybody, regardless of age, who has 30 years service to be able to retire at $500 a month.

The International Monetary Fund showed unusual concern about the problem in its annual report, suggesting that the United States must use additional measures to bring prices under control.

One of the chief problems encountered by government economists is the changing nature of the malady. While common through the economy, inflated prices have been especially prevalent in the service sector.

That makes a big difference. Industrial inflation can be lessened by the use of labor-saving machinery and methods. Output can be boosted or, to put it another way, the cost of manufacture can be lowered by the use

But how can a doctor's output be increased? Or that of a painter or automobile serviceman or any other occupation in which human rather than machines

The problem is made all the more critical because of the changing nature of the American economy which, in good times and bad, is becoming service-oriented.
